Siena New York Poll: Not So 'Blue': McCain Closing Gap vs. Clinton & Obama Voters View Paterson Favorably; Split on Job Performance Half of NYers Plan to Use Federal Rebate Check to Pay Bills; Only One in Five Plans on Going Shopping for Something New

Loudonville, NY. If the presidential election were held today, neither Democrat – Senator Hillary Clinton or Senator Barack Obama – would get the support of 50 percent of New York voters against Senator John McCain. Clinton has a four point lead and Obama has a five point lead, according to a new Siena (College) Research Institute poll of registered voters released today. The Siena New York poll shows that Governor David Paterson's favorability rating is down from last month, although nearly half of voters still view him favorably, and voters are evenly divided on whether he is doing a positive or negative job as governor. Voters, however, do believe the Governor will be successful in improving the State in a variety of ways. Nearly three-quarters of voters anticipate getting a Federal rebate check, but half of them will use the money to pay outstanding bills and only 20 percent plan to primarily use the money to buy something new.

"With a little more than six months until Election Day, New York is looking more 'purple' than 'blue' these days, since neither Clinton or Obama gets 50 percent of the vote against McCain, and both Democrats have small and shrinking leads against the Arizona Republican," said Steven Greenberg, spokesman for the Siena New York Poll. "New York's senator, who has the highest unfavorable rating she has ever had in a Siena New York poll, leads McCain 46-42 percent and Obama's lead over McCain is 45-40 percent. Both Democrats had seven point leads in February."

Clinton's favorable/unfavorable rating is 48-46 percent; Obama's is 54-34 percent; McCain's is 54-35 percent.

Paterson's favorable/unfavorable rating is 48-18 percent, down from 58-10 percent last month. His job performance rating is 35 percent positive, 34 percent negative, with 32 percent of voters having no opinion.

"New Yorkers are still learning about their new Governor, and while they generally like him, one-third of voters don't know enough about David Paterson to have an opinion about him or the job that he is doing so far," Greenberg said.

"Despite their current view of the Governor, or lack thereof, it is clear that New Yorkers are rooting for Paterson to succeed, and on several key issues, they feel he will," Greenberg said.

While Governor Paterson has only been in office for about a month, I'd like you to tell me whether you think he will be successful or unsuccessful in accomplishing each of the following priorities:	Successful	Unsuccessful	DK/NO
Creating a bi-partisan spirit of cooperation	63%	21%	16%
Making state government more effective	53%	26%	21%
Considering the interests of both upstate and downstate New Yorkers	57%	22%	22%
Moving New York State's economy forward	53%	26%	21%

"Even a majority of Republicans think the Democratic Governor will succeed in creating bipartisanship and considering the interest of all New Yorkers. A plurality of Republicans think he will succeed in making state government more effective and moving the economy forward," Greenberg said. "Only time will tell if voters' optimism in the Governor will prove accurate, but for now they are giving him the benefit of the doubt."

By an 80-15 percent margin, voters do not believe that the Governor's disclosure of extramarital affairs will affect his ability to be a successful governor. By an even larger 87-9 percent margin, they do not believe his disclosure of having tried illegal drugs will affect his ability to be a successful governor.

"Voters were well aware of the Governor's personal disclosures. They don't care. And they overwhelmingly do not believe it will hurt his ability to be a successful governor," Greenberg said.

Paterson leads in a potential 2010 gubernatorial primary with the support of 35 percent of Democrats. Attorney General Andrew Cuomo garners 30 percent and Nassau County Executive Tom Suozzi only gets seven percent. In a potential general election match-up, New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg would handily beat Paterson 48-34 percent. Bloomberg has the support of 40 percent of Democrats.

"While 73 percent of voters expect to get a Federal rebate check, 49 percent of them intend to use the money to pay bills. Only 20 percent anticipate going shopping to buy something new," Greenberg said. "This windfall of cash for New Yorkers may not help the economy much since only a small minority plan on spending the money. Half the people plan on paying bills and another quarter are going to try and save it."

By an overwhelming 72-19 percent margin, New York voters think the country is headed in the wrong direction. By a 48-33 percent margin they believe New York is headed in the wrong direction.

"New Yorkers are very pessimistic about the direction of the country and their pessimism about the direction of the state is growing, reaching its highest level in two years" Greenberg said.
